MORE PARKING AREAS NEEDED FOR TOURISTS

The chief result of the meeting of a joint committee of the Gettysburg Chamber of Commerce and Travel Council, and representatives of the Planning Commission and others held Wednesday night in the Travel Council rooms in the Western Maryland Depot, Carlisle St., was the recommendation to wage a publicity campaign urging townspeople to limit their own parking on the main streets, as a courtesy to give tourists more parking areas.

Thomas Metz, Travel Council committee chairman, served as chairman as the representatives discussed the town's parking situation in hopes that their survey might result in recommendations that would help solve the town's parking and traffic problems. Donald V. Manning, president of the Travel Council, was asked to represent the group at a special borough council meeting Monday evening in the engine house at 8 o'clock at which traffic problems will probably be discussed.

A committee comprising Walter B. Lane and Paul Witt was named to confer with the borough solicitor about the legality of placing signs at suitable locations designating the various parking lots in town. The committee was then to submit a recommendation to borough council about placing such signs. Robert Codori, S. F. Snyder and Wilbur Plank, parking lot representatives, agreed to share the expense of purchasing and placing "off street parking" signs if council permitted their erection.

Findings Aired
The committee agreed that more tourist parking space in the metered areas would be provided if local people would park off the main streets on lengthy visits to town. Congestion was also traced to the habit of clerks and store owners parking in front of their stores all day. The committee reported that Thursday afternoons and Sundays presented no parking space problems.

Solutions for the parking problems varied widely from advocating restricted areas to parking on only one side of the street and the establishment of unloading zones.

Councilman Glenn Guise urged the members to attend Monday's council meeting and offer their suggestions.

Bulganin Sends Letter To Ike

WASHINGTON (AP)—Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin has written a new letter to President Eisenhower. Soviet Ambassador Georgi N. Zarubin arranged to deliver it at the State Department today.

A Soviet Embassy source, questioned about an afternoon date that Zarubin made with Secretary of State Dulles, told a reporter: "I understand he is going to deliver a letter from Mr. Bulganin to the President."

Since last summer Bulganin and Eisenhower have exchanged a series of letters mostly concerned with disarmament but also including a proposal made by Bulganin in January for a friendship treaty between Russia and the United States and other Western powers.

The spokesman declined to comment on the subject matter of the new message.

Zarubin had been scheduled to return to Moscow last Saturday for consultation, but canceled his flight. There was speculation today that he had received instructions to stay here and deliver the new note.

SENATE PASSES LIBRARY BILL

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate passed yesterday and sent to the White House a bill to set up a five-year program of federal aid to rural libraries.

The measure, previously passed by the House, would make 7½ million dollars available for each of the five years to stimulate state extension of library service to communities of 10,000 population or less.

Each state would receive a basic allotment which it would match on the basis of its per capita income as compared with the national per capita income.

PROSPECTS FOR GOOD TOMATO YIELD BRIGHT

With few exceptions, tomato acreage in Adams and York Counties, planted under agreement with the C. H. Musselman Company, is now completed.

This year the operation was beset with damage from frosts in addition to delays caused by wet weather. It is reported that in several instances tomato fields were replanted as many as three times due to killing frosts during May.

The Musselman Company's three million home-grown plants fell short of supplying their growers' needs because of the necessity for replanting. Southern grown plants were imported to compensate for the shortage. In addition to making available home-grown plants the company offers such optional services as soil testing, planting, spraying and the assistance of an experienced horticulturist and fieldmen.

Plants Doing Well
In checking on development of plants since planting time, Donald E. Horst, crop supervisor for the Musselman Company, reports that fields are in good condition, and, barring abnormalities in weather, prospects at this stage "are excellent."

The disappointing yields of 1954 and 1955 in all eastern tomato growing areas afforded California growers and processors an opportunity to become established in eastern markets. While serious inroads were made, a consensus holds that the superior quality of eastern tomato products could quickly offset these gains if the 1956 season is normal.

603 ENROLL IN BLACK WALNUT SCOUT DISTRICT

The Black Walnut Boy Scout District now has 603 boys enrolled as Cubs, Scouts and Explorers, the largest number in the district's history.

Charles Bright, scout field executive, reporting at a meeting of the district committee at the Shetter House Wednesday night, said the district has 275 Cubs, 240 Scouts and 88 Explorers. He added that scout membership in the district should exceed 800 within a year if present units continue their growth and proposed new units come into existence.

Bright added that the scouting numbers in the district could exceed 1,000 "if we could secure and train sufficient adult leadership." There are 2,935 youths of scouting age within the district, he said, and "our goal should be to give an opportunity for scouting to at least one third of the boys."

Form New Troop
Rapid progress was reported on development of a new Boy Scout troop at Hunterstown under sponsorship of the Ruritans. Reports at the meeting indicated some progress on the proposed establishment of at least five other units throughout the district.

Reports on the financial drive in the district outside Gettysburg showed $2,737.70 collected so far with additional sums still to come from areas in which the drive has not as yet been completed.

Dr. Frederick Tilberg told the committee 17 Explorers have signed for Ground Observer Corps spotter station duty. He also outlined plans for a Boy Scout swimming instruction program to be held at the Country Club pool July 2 through July 18. All scouts planning to take the swimming instruction are asked to register with Dr. Tilberg by the end of this month.

MILK SAMPLING BY OWNERS GET DHIA APPROVAL

The executive committee of the Adams County Dairy Herd Improvement Association, meeting Wednesday evening at the court house, voted to permit "owner sampling" of milk as part of the DHIA practices of county.

Vice President B. J. Griffe, who presided at the meeting, said the move was made because of the demand of dairy farmers, who are not members of the regular DHIA circuits, for some method of keeping records for efficient production.

The "owner sampling" system will permit extension of some DHIA record keeping methods to numerous additional herds in the county, Griffe said.

Under the plan, farmers will weigh their milk and take samples to be tested for butterfat content. A system will be worked out by which the regular DHIA testers will gather the samples and weights, test the samples for butterfat, and prepare a record for the cows in the farmer's herd.

Not Complete Records

The records will give milk production and butter fat percentages, but will not include feed and other records that are kept by the DHIA testers for their members. Nor will the "owner sampling" records be filed at Washington with other DHIA records as part of the permanent production record for cows. "But the system will provide a farmer who is not in one of the DHIA circuits with an opportunity to keep sufficient records for his own guidance in removing the 'boarders' from the herd and developing his herd," Griffe said.

Because the "owner sampling" program will not give complete records, the DHIA board set a lower cost for those participating in that program. They will pay a $3 fee to join the association and pay $5 per month per herd up to 15 cows, and then ten cents per additional cow over 15.

In addition a fee representing ten per cent of the total cost will be charged to pay association expenses for acids, equipment, etc., used in the program.

GIRL IS SEEKING $12,000 CLAIM FOR SNAKEBITE

The Adams County Court has been asked in an action in trespass filed with the prothonotary to place a monetary value on the damage suffered by a 16-year-old girl when she was bitten by a copperhead snake while gathering strawberries.

Anna K. Boswick, 16, and Eugene H. Boswick, Fairfield R. 2, as her guardian, ask $12,000 from Preston J. and Bernice Baumgardner, Fairfield R. 2, because Miss Boswick was "severely bitten" June 11, 1954, by a copperhead while picking strawberries at the Baumgardner farm.

According to the complaint, Preston Baumgardner went to the Boswick home at 7:30 a.m. on June 11 and hired Miss Boswick to work in harvest of the berry patch.

Bitten On Hand

When the copperhead struck it inflicted two puncture wounds between the thumb and first finger of the right hand, according to the complaint, "requiring multiple incisions and hospital care" to cure.

The complaint adds that as a result of the bite and subsequent treatment she "suffered great pain and agony" and claim is made that she should be allotted $1,000 for that pain.

Continuing, the complaint notes that she has a permanent scar and disability of the right hand resulting from the bite and claim is made for $5,000 for her for that damage.

First Such Case

Allegation is made that the Baumgardners knew, or should have known, of the possible presence of a copperhead or copperheads in the berry patch before assigning Miss Boswick to the harvesting task and that the Baumgardners "failed to take adequate precautions in clearing the area of snakes."

Eugene H. Boswick asks $6,000 damages for himself as guardian of the girl, thus bringing the total sought to $12,000.

Veteran court house attendants said that the case is the first of its type in Adams County in their recollection.

They also added that the case points up a remarkable record of safety from snake bite in the county considering the thousands who each year harvest the county's fruit and farm crops.

The suit has been brought for Miss Boswick and her guardian by the law firm of Mankowitz, Liverant, Boyle, Rauhauser and Kagen of York, and Attorney Daniel E. Teeter of Gettysburg.

Surviving Shoot Of Deceased Mexican Dagger Plant Takes Root, Buds And Then Blooms After Thirteen Years

What is believed to be the only Mexican Dagger plant in Pennsylvania is now in bloom at the home of Edward H. Sachs, Biglerville R. D. It has taken 13 years to develop from a small shoot into a six foot plant and produce a most unusual bloom.

Twenty-four years ago the late Mrs. E. H. Sachs and her daughter, Rebecca ("Becky") (a graduate of Gettysburg College), were motoring in Texas and someplace south of Amarillo they saw an unusual plant. It was identified as a Mexican Dagger plant. They purchased two and planted them on their property near Biglerville. They were 18 inches high.

Protected From Snow

In June, 1943, eleven years after it was planted, one of the plants bloomed and died within one month. It left but one surviving shoot, a small one. The second plant was crushed by snow and died.

BARE BRITISH SENTENCE FOR HELP TO REDS

LONDON (AP) — The Foreign Office disclosed today a British court in the World War II period sentenced Capt. John Herbert King to 10 years in prison for giving secrets to the Soviet Union in September 1939. He was freed after the war.

A spokesman said King had been convicted on evidence relayed from the United States.

King was a retired army officer working in the communications section of the Foreign Office.

The statement followed testimony given to a U. S. Senate committee that Britain executed a Soviet spy in the Tower of London in 1939.

Questioned about King's present whereabouts, the spokesman said: "As far as I know he is still alive."

Gives No Details

The spokesman refused to go into details about the evidence sent to London from the United States. Asked if a former Soviet intelligence officer, Gen. Walter Krivitsky, was involved in the evidence, he replied: "Yes, the assumption is correct that Gen. Krivitsky's evidence helped convict King."

The spokesman said a considerable amount of evidence was received from the United States which "might have involved" a British diplomat.

Asked if the diplomat he referred to was Donald Maclean or Guy Burgess, two British spies now in Moscow, he said:

"You may assume that it was one of them."

Isaac Don Levine, a Waldorf, Md., author, testified at a Senate Internal Security subcommittee hearing that he got the story of the execution from Gen. Krivitsky who was found shot to death in a Washington hotel in 1940.

MARSHALL QUILTS SINGAPORE POST

SINGAPORE (AP) — Chief Minister David Marshall handed in his resignation today to the British governor in Singapore.

The leader of the minority Labor Front government had said he would resign after an all-party delegation he led to London failed to secure independence for this strategic British island colony at the tip of the Malay peninsula.

The British insisted that they retain the right to resume control of the Singapore police if an emergency developed. The colony's population is largely Chinese, and many of them are open supporters of Communist China.

After a 20-minute conference with the governor, Sir Robert Black, Marshall said Black had accepted his advice and would call on Lim Yew Hock, Labor minister in the present Cabinet, to head a new Labor Front coalition administration.

Under the constitution, the whole Cabinet will resign with Marshall, but observers believe all former ministers will serve under Lim.

121 New Polio Cases Reported

WASHINGTON (AP) — New polio cases numbered 121 last week. This was an increase of nine from those in the week ended May 26 but was less than half the 248 reported in the corresponding 1955 week.

A Public Health Service spokesman said the rise of about seven per cent was a little smaller than might have been expected at this season, when incidence is on the increase.

However, he reiterated it still is too early to talk about what lies ahead or whether the use of Salk polio vaccine is being reflected in the relatively low incidence as compared with the last three years.

He pointed out that the total of 797 cases reported this disease year, which began about April 1, is not far below the 848 in the corresponding 1952 period. Yet large outbreaks in July, August and September of 1952 made that the record polio year.

There's a place I always go to . . . when the tides of life run low . . . special spot where smiles are plenty . . . and the scented breezes blow . . . halloed ground where bloom sweet flowers . . . blossoming with untold good . . . for the code to live is kindness . . . flavored with true brotherhood . . . sheltered by the arms of nature . . . cradled in her loving breast . . . is the place where I find comfort . . . and a tranquil kind of rest . . . heavy hearts are made much lighter . . . and my joys are multiplied . . . because helpful hands are waiting . . . to control the ebbing tide . . . so I prize my peaceful valley . . . blessed by heaven up above . . . where the birds sing through the day-time . . . and the nights are filled with love.

Above is a photograph of the Mexican Dagger plant at the E. H. Sachs home, near Bigville. The plant is six feet high and its dagger-shaped stems measure six feet from tip to tip. The bloom is at the top.

"Joe," 9-year-old pet goose of Edward H. Sachs.

Surviving

The Sachs were determined to try again. They planted the lone shoot on the southwest side of their house where it had the protection of the home. During the cold months they covered the post and railed-in enclosure with a metal roof to protect the plant from snow. The shoot took root, started to thrive and grow.

In thirteen years the plant has grown to a height of six feet. Its main body resembles a large pineapple from which grow scores of long green stems, with dagger sharp edges with very sharp points. The stems resemble daggers, long and menacing looking. When pierced by one of these pointed stems a human usually develops an infection.

Blooms Memorial Day
At the top of the plant the bloom, that budded on May 16 and developed its first sign of colors, ivory and green, burst forth on May 30 into a shape resembling a huge cluster of bells, suspended upside down. To some it looks like a large bunch of small bananas or some refer to them as tulips hanging upside down.

Miss Sachs does not know how long the plant will remain in bloom, whether it will die as the first one did after blooming or whether it will survive and bloom again in thirteen years.

"Joe," The Goose
While at the Sachs home Miss Sachs pointed out to Times reporters her father's favorite pet (not excepting the millions of bees he has), a goose, called "Joe."

Joe is 9 years old. His birthday is in August. Every day Joe follows his master all over the premises. "He thinks he is a human," Miss Sachs said. "He follows Dad all over the place. I use to play with him but now he is getting mean. Mean, that is to everyone except my father. He will keep a watchful eye on strangers, walk sideways up to them and suddenly take a bite out of their leg. He has bitten me several times. He was purchased as a gosling and has never seen another goose."

Today's Talk

JUST NEVER GIVE UP

I have read many a book about men who have started out very simply and humbly, later to be widely acclaimed and envied because of their wealth and usefulness. The lives of great men are an inspiration to us all. I often ask myself: what is it that makes one man an outstanding success, and another just "an also ran" type?

I am of the opinion that the answer is the successful ones never give up. They go through all sorts of failures and disappointments — yet without giving up! That sounds like the answer. Many years ago I read about a man who had spent a huge sum trying to bring in some oil wells in Texas, but he finally gave up and sold out, for a modest sum, all his interests. The new man took over and kept right on. As I recall, it was but a short distance of further drilling when a great quantity of oil was discovered. The one who refused to give up gained a fortune!

Edison worked on problems that ran into the thousands of trials. He always contended that each failure made it one less to try. Probably many a useful gadget and invention lies silent and unused because its inventor got discouraged and didn't produce it. You have to keep climbing, experimenting, and expanding your ideas if you would be an outstanding success. Just never give up! Give encouragement to others. Giving a boost to someone when most needed has often worked miracles both ways.

If you believe in an idea or proposition, stay by it, and nurture it as a mother her "first born." Just never give up. Too many people give up just before they might have won. It is an excellent idea to prepare yourself for something higher, even though you may never be called upon to fulfill such a place. Just never give up being something better and bigger!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Encouraging Oneself!"

RUBBISH
Into the ash can go the things
That no one is ever afraid to lose.
To the rubbish within no value
clings.
Rag pickers take whatever they choose.

Once there was something bright and gay
Shown with pride to the friends about.
But it's faded now and is thrown away.
Tattered and torn and long worn out.

Something that once was precious lies
Discarded there in a tangled heap.
A thing once looked at with smiling eyes
The owner no longer cares to keep.

Into the wagon the stuff is thrown,
And nobody thinks of a happier day.
Of the joys the owner may have known
As the rubbish is noisily carted
away.

SURRENDERS TO POLICE AFTER FATAL SHOOTING

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Joseph Macesker, 24, gets a preliminary hearing today on charges in connection with the slaying of his neighbor in a barren New Jersey coastal area.

Macesker surrendered himself to police yesterday just two hours after Anthony M. Russell, 32, died in Shore Memorial Hospital, Somers Point, N.J., of a bullet wound in the head.

Patrolman Anthony P. Crescitiello quoted Macesker as saying he had done "something wrong. I want to go to the nearest police station."

Lt. William Lovejoy of the homicide squad said Macesker admitted "shooting somebody down in Jersey but he didn't know whom." Macesker, charged with being a fugitive from New Jersey, turned over to police a .22 rifle and some shells that were in the back of his station wagon. Police said tests were being made to determine if the rifle was the one with which Russell had been shot.

Fights Extradition
Macesker's attorney, Albert S. Olenis, said he would seek a psychiatric examination of his client and, pending the examination, a continuance of extradition proceedings.

Lovejoy said Macesker was dazed from a drinking bout that began on Monday and his memory was hazy. The homicide investigator quoted Macesker as saying he did not know Russell, who lived half a block from him in north Philadelphia. Neighbors said they saw the two together Tuesday night.

Harry Scott, a Somers Point fuel dealer, found Russell almost completely buried in sand along a road in Scullville, Egg Harbor Township, N.J., yesterday morning. Russell was bleeding from the head and died six hours later. It was while police were seeking Macesker that he surrendered himself. A card bearing Macesker's name was found on Russell.

One Was Student
Macesker, a soldier from 1950 to 1952, was studying under the GI bill at Pennsylvania Institute of Technology in suburban Upper Darby. Russell had been discharged from the Army last year after 12 years' service. He had a wife and a five-year-old daughter living overseas.

His mother said Russell had recently been ordered from his home by his stepfather because he had been drinking heavily and refused to work.

Dodger Hurling Paying Off With Four Straight Wins; Braves Lose Six Out Of 7

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press
So the Pittsburgh Pirates win five of six and St. Louis takes four of five. But how about those Brooklyn Dodgers? They win four straight the hard way—with Roy Campanella in a slump.

Campy, three times the National League's most valuable player, is hitting .230, without a home run since May 8, no extra base hit since May 15 and no run batted in since May 22. This can't be what the world champions had in mind when they made him the highest paid Dodger yet with a $42,500 contract.

What's more, the big catcher isn't alone. Duke Snider, at .305, and Randy Jackson, at .351, are the only Brook regulars hitting over .300. And Jackson just made the first string six days ago, taking over third base from Jackie Robinson (.228).

Pitching Pays Off
What's the answer? Pitching. The Dodgers made a sweep of a three-game set at Milwaukee last night with Don Newcombe's five-hitter beating the Braves 5-2. Milwaukee, losing six of seven, had only 10 hits in the series as the Dodgers got three complete games from their pitching staff. Sal Maglie three-hit the Braves Monday 3-0. Roger Craig two-hit 'em Tuesday 6-1. And then came Newk, winning his eighth. The three right-handers gave up just one walk apiece, and struck out 14.

Brooklyn now is but 8 percentage points shy of the fourth-place Braves. Both are two games behind first-place Pittsburgh, which walloped the Chicago Cubs 8-2, Cincinnati, 7-3, and St. Louis, 4 points farther back, cracked New York 3-2 in 11 innings.

Red Sox Stop Tigers
The American League got back to normal. Boston ended Detroit's winning streak at seven games 5-4 and the New York Yankees kept their 3½-game lead by breaking their four-game losing string 10-3 against Kansas City. Cleveland remained in second, beating Baltimore 5-1. Chicago's White Sox lost at Washington 12-7.

Both Milwaukee runs were unearned, coming on Hank Aaron's seventh homer after a two-out error in the first. Snider hit his 10th homer in the top of the first, then the Dodgers added one in the third and scored the clincher in the fifth when Jackson walked with the bases loaded. Gene Conley (1-2) was the loser.

Cincy Wins Again
A three-run homer by Frank Robinson and a solo shot by Gus Bell, both in the seventh inning, brought the Redlegs from behind and gave unbeaten Brooks Lawrence his seventh victory. Stu Miller was the loser.

The Cards tied it 2-2 with a run after two were out in the ninth, then nailed it on Jackie Brandt's double off reliever Johnny Antonelli. Hoyt Wilhelm, third Giant pitcher, was the loser. Ellis Kinder won it.

Dale Long, Frank Thomas and Roberto Clemente homered for the Bucs as Ron Kline won his fifth and Phil Minter lost his fifth.

Three runs in the eighth cracked Detroit's string as Sammy White hit his second two-run single of the game to beat Paul Foyock. Tom Brewer won his eighth, with Ike Delock's help in a two-run Tiger ninth.

Yanks Win On Homers
Yogi Berra's 15th homer and Bill Skowron's second helped the Yanks, who chased Tom LaSorda with an 8-0 edge by the third. Bob Grim won with Tommy Byrne's relief.

Cleveland bunched five of its seven hits in the fourth and fifth off Connie Johnson to score all its runs. Art Houtteman, leaving with a sore shoulder in the sixth, and Ray Narleski blanked the Birds for 8 2-3 innings.

Washington beat Chicago a second straight time with 15 hits, including third-inning homers by Whitey Herzog and Carlos Paula.

Mathers Name As Bears Player-Coach

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP) — Frank Mathers, former Pittsburgh Hornet defenseman, will be the player-coach of the Hershey Bears of the American Hockey League next season.

Mathers, 31, replaces Murray Henderson, the Bears' coach for the past four years. John B. Solenberger, Hershey president who announced the appointment yesterday, said Henderson had been offered a scouting job.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

Letter to the Editor

Mr. Paul L. Roy, Editor
The Gettysburg Times
Gettysburg, Pennsylvania
Dear Mr. Roy:

I wonder if any of the old time baseball fans in the Gettysburg area who read your "Letters to the Editor" column would be able to help in catching up with some ancient baseball books. You see, I am trying to fill out a collection of the Reach and Spalding Official Baseball Guides. These are annual baseball record books which were published yearly from 1877 to 1941 and are familiar to the veteran baseball followers among the readers of The Times.

Since the Guides are no longer printed there is difficulty in completing the set, hence this plea to you. As the Gettysburg region has always been baseball minded there may be some of these books in the hands of your subscribers who are no longer interested in them and who they may wish to dispose of. There must be innumerable Guides just lying in the way around the house, gathering dust on the bookshelves or cluttering up the attics and of their homes. I will gladly reimburse them and should they have any copies to offer I would appreciate it very much if they will write and let me know what they have.

Hoping there is an element of interest and unusual novelty in my quest and that at the same time The Times' baseball rosters who can "go way back" might find it to their benefit also, I am

Most sincerely,

JOE BIERLY JOINS ORIOLES

BALTIMORE (AP) — Joe Bierly, right-handed pitcher from Gettysburg College, was signed today to a minor league contract by the Baltimore Orioles.

Jim Weaver, an Oriole scout, had been on the trail of Bierly for three years during which he posted a record of 13-6 and had an earned run average of 1.4. Coach Max Bishop of the Naval Academy called Bierly "one of the best pitchers I've seen all year." That was after some big league scouts left early in a game which Bierly pitched 14 innings to win 9-6 and allow only two earned runs.

Bierly's father played minor league baseball in the farm system of the St. Louis Browns, the franchise now owned by the Baltimore Orioles. Bierly, who lives in Glen Rock, Pa., will work out for a few days with the Orioles before being assigned to the Class B Lubbock, Tex., team.

VIRGINIA BEACH, Va. — Mary Lena Faulk, Thomasville, Ga., set the first round pace with a plus 20 points and Mickey Wright, San Diego, Calif., tied the competitive course record with 69 in the $12,000 Round Robin tournament.

NEW YORK — Bold Ruler ($3.20) won his fifth straight race by taking the $33,975 Juvenile Stakes at Belmont Park.

WILMINGTON, Del. — Miss Blue Jay ($3.20) easily captured the $14,200 Polly Dummond Stakes at Delaware Park.

REDLEGS' BATS POWER CLUB TO SECOND PLACE

CINCINNATI (AP) — Everyone keeps talking about the surprising Pittsburgh Pirates, but how about the Cincinnati Redlegs?

They have been buried in the National League's second division for even a longer time than Pittsburgh but a power-laden lineup has boomed them into a virtual tie with the Pirates for the National League lead. They're only 4 percentage points back of the Bucs.

Cincinnati hasn't finished out of the second division since 1944 while the Pirates managed to get up as high as fourth in 1945 and 1948.

Shell-shocked National League pitchers can attest to the power that is packed in the Redleg lineup.

Everyone knew there was a lot of potential hitting when the season started but most observers figured it couldn't make up for a shaky pitching staff.

The Reds lost five of their first six games but then the power boys began to find the range, the pitching looked better than anyone expected and that fancy-fielding second base-shortstop combination of Johnny Temple and Roy McMillan started reeling off double plays.

Brooks Lawrence, picked up in an off-season deal with the St. Louis Cardinals, has won seven straight games, and Johnny Klippstein has turned out to be a consistent winner. Only Joe Nuxhall has failed to carry his share of the load.

But it's the hitting that is wrecking opposing teams.

Starting with rookie Frank Robinson, who bats second, here has been the home run output of five batters in a row — Robinson 12, Gus Bell 12, Ted Kluszewski 9, Wally Post 13 and Ray Jablonski 11.

Catcher Ed Bailey, who crowded the veteran Smokey Burgess out of the starting lineup, usually is next up and he has six homers.

Jim Kroh, Giants' pitcher, hurled and batted his team to a 6-0 victory over the Vets in a Littlestown Little League Game Wednesday evening.

Kroh collected two hits, driving in a pair of runs and scoring another himself. He struck out seven while walking six. Jones and Oaster gave him good defensive support.

L. Snyder, who went the distance for the Vets, also turned in a good mound performance and likewise whiffed seven.

The Giants tabbed two runs in the first inning. Jones reached second base on an error, moved to third on a fielder's choice and scored on Oaster's single. Kroh doubled to score Basheore.

A four-run outburst in the last of the fifth wrapped up the decision for the Giants.

FAVORITE WINS ENGLISH DERBY

EPSON, England (AP)—Lavandin, a French colt owned by Pierre Wertheimer, rushed down the stretch in the rain Wednesday at Epsom Downs and won the 177th running of the English Derby in a stirring photo finish with American-owned Montaval.

Twenty-seven 3-year-olds started in the gruelling 1½-mile race, and Lavandin barely held off the closing surge of Montaval, another French horse, owned by R. B. Strassburger, formerly of Norristown, Pa., now living in France.

The finish was so close that judges called for a look at the pictures, then awarded the decision to Lavandin by a neck.

The Irish colt Roistar was third. Jockey Rae Johnstone, a native Australian who captured the Derby in 1948 and 1950, rode the winner.

Lavandin started as the 7-1 favorite. Montaval was a 40-1 longshot and ridden by Freddy Palmer, who won the 1955 Derby. Roistar, owned by J. M. McGrath, went off at 22-1.

Two lengths separated Montaval and Roistar.

Springers Take Third Straight

York Springs' fast stepping baseball team won its third straight decision in the Bi-County Baseball League Wednesday evening by nipping Dillsburg 4-3 on the winners' field.

Doubles by Bob Megonnell and Ken Kemper were good for a pair of Springer runs in the second inning. After Dillsburg tied the score via a three-run rally in the top of the fifth, York Springs put over the winning tally in its half on a double by Harry Stimer and single by Charlie Wishard.

In other league games Cumberland trounced Carlisle 18-1 and Centerville downed Newville 5-1.

Score by Innings:

YESTERDAY'S STARS

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

PITCHING — Don Newcombe, Dodgers, won his eighth with a five-hitter, striking out six and walking only one, to beat Braves 5-2.

HITTING — Roberto Clemente, Pirates, homered in a perfect 4-for-4 day to push consecutive hit streak to seven and extend hitting string through seven games in 8-2 decision over Cubs that retained Pittsburgh's slim National League lead.

Speed of traffic in Bermuda is limited to 15 miles an hour in towns and 20 miles in the country.

Eastern League

A seven-run fifth inning, highlighted by Dick Sanders' bases-loaded triple, has catapulted the Binghamton Triplets into first place in the Eastern League.

The triplets made good use of 14 hits as they sank the Williamsport Grays 12-6 last night at Williamsport to head Schenectady's Blue Jays by 13 percentage points.

The Albany Senators dropped from first to third in the standings as the Reading Indians pounded three of their hurlers for a 9-1 sacking.

After two defeats, the Blue Jays finally got to the Allentown Redbirds as Henry Maun hurred a two-hitter for a 2-0 shutout at Allentown. At Johnstown, the Johnnies and the Syracuse Chiefs split a double header with the Johnnies taking the opener 6-5 and the chiefs the other 6-3.

STARLET WEDS; SECRET UNION

HOLLYWOOD — When film starlet Janet Lake, onetime fashion model from Phoenixville, Pa., and actor Robert Dix announced that they were engaged they told less than half the story. The rest of it—that they are already married—came to light in a rather casual way.

A friend phoned Janet yesterday to congratulate her on the engagement, that information having been made public the day before. Janet then let it out that she and Dix had glided off to Las Vegas, Nev., on May 31 and were married at midnight by a justice of the peace under their real names of Robert Brimmer and Janet Linkey. The groom is the son of the late Richard Dix, a movie star for many years.

Blooms In Bahai

Janet said her romance bloomed in the mystique of Bahai, a sect founded over 100 years ago in Persia. Both bride and groom are members, and along with other devotees of Bahai, strive for the spiritual unity of all faiths and for universal peace. As befits the origin of the sect, Bahai's ritual is strongly oriental.

The couple plans to remarry the last week in June in the Bahai rite, which Janet explained can be performed by any member of the sect.

Dix had this comment: "We didn't want to announce our Las Vegas marriage because we wanted to wait and break the news to Janet's parents when they arrive here on the 19th."

Alcoholic Goes For Three-Month Cure

BROCKTON, Mass. — A 66-year-old man appearing before District Court Judge Anthony Kupka wanted to go to the Bridgewater State Farm for an alcoholism cure, the $100 way — or not at all. He told Judge Kupka he paid $100 taxi fare to travel from Chicopee Falls to Bridgewater, where he was refused admittance to the state farm, a correctional institution.

He appealed to Bridgewater Police Chief Elmer Shaw who locked him up for drunkenness. Judge Kupka agreed he merited a cure and sentenced him to three months at the farm. But the man protested. "I don't want to go this way," he said — but he did.

President Hopes Congress Okays Foreign Aid Program

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said today the whole question of whether to continue United States aid to Communist Yugoslavia must be restudied in the light of Marshal Tito's new friendliness with Moscow.

His statement came at a news conference in which he:

1. Plugged hard for enactment of the administration's $4,900,000,000 foreign aid program. The House Foreign Affairs Committee has voted a $1,100,000,000 cut.

2. Drew away from taking sides in primary contests between Republicans. Eisenhower said he believes it is not the place of the President of the United States to intervene in primaries.

Also on the political front, Eisenhower declined to shed any light on whether he may campaign more vigorously this fall than he indicated in February. He said at that time he would do no barnstorming or whistle stop speaking, and would confine his efforts to mass communication approaches — that is, through newspapers, television and radio.

Didn't Say "Campaign"

A reporter told Eisenhower that last week he had remarked at a Citizens for Eisenhower rally that he would "campaign" as energetically and as enthusiastically as he could.

Eisenhower interrupted to deny that he had ever used the word "campaign." He said he had talked rather of carrying on his responsibilities cheerfully and energetically.

As for whether he may make more than the half dozen television speeches, which the Republican National Committee has indicated are on the schedule, the President replied that he has not discussed the matter with anyone.

Eisenhower launched his conference with a call for support in Congress for his foreign aid program.

The President said that unless this country continues the program on an earnest, sincere basis, then it will have to spend many more billions of dollars — compared to the foreign aid total — for what Eisenhower called this negative, static general defense program.

Will Await Election

Politics came up with a question as to whether Eisenhower planned to give Sen. Wiley (R-Wis.) any help in his primary campaign.

The Wisconsin State Republican Convention recently refused to endorse Wiley, a strong administration supporter on foreign policy, for a third term. The convention's endorsement went instead to Rep. Glenn R. Davis, who is backed by Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) among others.

Eisenhower replied that Wiley himself had issued a statement saying he neither wanted nor expected administration help in his primary contest.

He said he understood that Wiley wants no administration help until, as Eisenhower put it, the people of the state decide upon a nominee.

No Primary Interference

Then Eisenhower went on to say he believes it is not the place of the President of the United States to intervene in primaries.

In the course of the conference, Eisenhower also dealt with these other matters:

TWINING — The President said Gen. Nathan F. Twining's acceptance of an invitation to visit the Soviet Union air show in Moscow June 24 means the United States will reciprocate by inviting Twining's Russian opposite number to this country. Twining is Air Force chief of staff.

STALIN — Eisenhower expressed the opinion that the denunciation of Stalin by Nikita Khrushchev, Russia's Communist party boss, was primarily for home consumption. This was in reply to a request for an evaluation of it.

Eisenhower said it apparently was intended to be an exhortation of a dictator, but actually amounted to an exhortation of dictators.

No Vacation Plans

MOLOTOV — The resignation of Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov last week had been a matter of speculation for a long time. Eisenhower said in response to a request for an appraisal of that development. The President added that he doubts the State Department has reached any real conviction as to the meaning of the resignation.

VACATION PLANS — The President said he has made no decision yet where he will vacation this summer.

LEGISLATION — Replying to several questions regarding bills which he has tagged as measures he wants passed, Eisenhower said he still is hopeful that school construction and postal rate increase bills will be enacted at this session of Congress. The postal service, he added, must be put on a paying basis. And schools are urgently needed, he said.

PANAMA — The President said the last word he had was that at least 15 of the presidents of the 21 American republics, including himself, plan to attend a conference in Panama City June 25-26.

No Repudiation

INTERIOR — Eisenhower said his decision to pass over Undersecretary of the Interior Clarence A. Davis in picking a new secretary should in no way be interpreted as a repudiation of the policies of McKay.

Eisenhower last week nominated Fred A. Seaton, White House aide and former Republican senator from Nebraska, to succeed McKay. The President said the choice was in keeping with his policy of picking the best qualified and most effective man for the job.

UNEMPLOYMENT — Eisenhower said the fact he has not plugged specially lately for enactment of a bill to help areas where there is unemployment does not mean he attaches less importance to the project than he previously did. The administration still wants to help such areas, he added.

Philanthropist's Impact Still Felt

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Seventy-seven years ago a philanthropist named Reuben R. Springer spoke out against special favors being passed his way, and his feelings on the matter are still felt in Cincinnati.

Thankful for the fortune Springer poured into the building of Music Hall, music minded folks offered him the first choice of seats for the May Festival.

"You aren't going to give me the first choice of seats," he reportedly told those who called on him. "The only reason I gave more money than anybody else is because I had it to give. There are others whose sacrifice was as great as mine and possibly greater. Give them the first choice."

There were many who had a claim for special attention and it was decided to auction the seats. Even then, the top bidders still have to take their places in line and pay the regular price for the seats.

The auction brings approximately $15,000 into the festival fund and helps pay the expenses of bringing some of the world's greatest musical talent to Cincinnati.

AMERICAN TRAVELERS

STONINGTON, Conn. (AP) — The first United States ship to carry the flag around the world with an all-American crew was the Betsey of Stonington, Edmund Fanning master, which made a voyage to China in 1797-99, say marine historians.

Karl J. Grimm Accepts New Post

Atty. Karl J. Grimm, former resident of Gettysburg and graduate of Gettysburg College who has been associated with the Traffic and Transportation Bureau of the Baltimore Association of Commerce for the past five years and its director since October 1, 1953, has resigned to accept the position of traffic manager of the Houston Port Bureau.

Grimm, who is a transportation rate specialist, will be in charge of rate and general transportation matters affecting the port of Houston. He is expected to assume his new post about June 15.

"Mr. Grimm has done an excellent job for Baltimore in all phases of our transportation picture, and we are sorry to lose him," G. H. Powder, executive vice president of the Baltimore association, stated. "He feels, however, that the opportunities offered in Texas are exceptionally good, and after long deliberation has decided to accept the post offered to him."

During his employment by the Association of Commerce Grimm represented Baltimore's interests before the Interstate Commerce Commission, Civil Aeronautics Board, Federal Maritime Board and other governmental agencies dealing with transportation. He has also served as secretary of the port dispatch committee.

BAR OF JUSTICE

LOVING, N. M. (P) — Just about every peace officer in the county was on hand for a hearing on a drunk driving case. An intruder, obviously a bit shaky from drinking, staggered into the court room, headed straight for the table where the state's evidence — a case of beer — was sitting. The beer cans toppled off the table when the stranger grabbed for them. The assistant district attorney cried "arrest that man." Someone did — and he was booked for drunkenness in court.

Pike Chairman Dubious About Superhighway's Future; Urges Higher Rate Plan By July 15

HARRISBURG (AP) — The chairman of the Pennsylvania Turnpike commission maintains that the future of the 408-mile superhighway is endangered unless toll rates are boosted.

"If existing rates are not adjusted by July 15," said Chairman G. Franklin McSorley, "the whole future of the turnpike system in Pennsylvania will be jeopardized."

McSorley made the statement yesterday at the opening of a legislative investigation into the need for a 41 per cent increase in car tolls proposed last month but later postponed for further consideration.

Representatives of other financial and legal firms, most of whom had some dealings with the commission in toll rate fixing, joined with McSorley in contending that there is no other alternative than to boost the rates.

Boost Plan

The proposed boost would have dropped the truck rates 20 per cent but was designed to yield an estimated 2 million dollars a year in added revenue in expected traffic increases from that source. The car boost was expected to bring in another 2 millions a year.

The five-member Senate committee heard testimony at an opening hearing for five hours before it closed shop until next Wednesday.

McSorley contended that the turnpike operation was in a "tough financial spot" and hinged the blame on the loss of 20,000 truck customers each month in eastern Pennsylvania.

"The figures show that 20,000 trucks a month left the road at Carlisle or Harrisburg since weighing scales were put into operation on the road on the first of the year," McSorley said.

He told the committee that the toll boost was needed because actual revenue has not met estimated revenue and that more money is needed to pay the interest on bonds sold in 1952 for the Delaware River extension, the Delaware River bridge and the north-eastern extension.

Trustee Speaks

H. Orville Sebring, of the Fidelity-Philadelphia Trust Co., trustee for the bondholders of the turnpike, said:

"The commission is bound by the indenture (bond agreement) and under it should institute new tolls as recommended by the engineers."

Senate Democratic Leader Dent, vice chairman of the committee, suggested that a $20 annual pass for use of the toll road be adopted in Pennsylvania.

No Annual Passes

Samuel B. Brown, New York traffic engineer who joined in the study which prompted the proposed toll increase, said his firm does not believe in the principal of annual passes.

"Now do we (the firm) believe in community rates on a closed toll road system," he added.

Dent pointed out that 80,000 such passes were sold last year for use on the New York State thruway.

Dent disagreed with McSorley's reason given for asking higher tolls.

"We are under the impression that increases are needed because revenues and truck traffic are going down," Dent said.

Shows Increase

"That's not true according to these figures of your own, not ours. They show that truck traffic and revenue has increased every month since the beginning of 1955 and that this January and February were the best in turnpike history," he said.

"This does not jibe with your stated reasons for an increase!" McSorley pointed out that Dent was using figures for the entire 408-mile length of the toll road.

Actually, he explained, only that part (Delaware River extension and bridge and northeastern extension) built under the 1952 bond agreement is in trouble.

"As far as the commission is concerned we have given up hopes of ever recovering that lost truck traffic—we've written it off," McSorley replied.

Keep Cars On Road

He added that the revised rates, with increases in the mountainous section between Breezewood and Carlisle are designed to keep vehicles on the road for the entire length.

Dent contended that under the bond agreement the commission had lost all power to fix rates on the superhighway.

"The members of the (commission) are powerless on the question of rates charged on the turnpike—they must accept rates recommended by the engineers or they are in default?" Dent asked.

"That is right," replied George S. Munson, Philadelphia, attorney for the bondholders.

"We need at least four million dollars to keep from defaulting," testified Commissioner James F. Torrence. "We didn't have any alternative under the bonds. If we don't adopt a new rate schedule we're definitely in default."

Feasible Projects

Walter H. Stel, a partner in the Philadelphia firm of Drexel & Co. which headed the underwriting syndicate, told the committee the 1952 (eastern) projects were feasible "provided we could eventually bring the revenue of the whole system behind them."

Brown showed charts indicating that the proposed 1½ cent per

Debt Uncountable Say Mathematicians

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — A Michigan State University mathematician says a man couldn't live long enough to count by ones the dollars in the national debt, which is roughly figured at $279,000,000,000.

Dr. J. S. Frame, head of the MSU mathematics department, said a man would have had to start before the pyramids were built to count up to 279 billion.

If you earned $1 a second 24 hours a day with no time off for Sundays or holidays, it would take 8,841 years to earn the amount of the debt.

A string of $1 bills totaling that much would reach from the Treasury Building in Washington to the moon. And stacked on top of each other, 279 billion new $1 bills would be almost 25,000 miles high.

mile passenger car rate would have been higher than only three other superhighways in the nation. At present the Pennsylvania rate of 1 cent a mile is the lowest.

In a statement filed with the committee, John S. Giles, president of the Pennsylvania Motor Federation, called such rate revisions "not only discrimination against the private passenger car owner but unjustified and unfair from the point of view of the Turnpike Commission."

Pennsylvania GOP Candidates Attend "Good Will Dinner" In Washington; Unity Is Pledged

By J. FRANK TRAGLE

WASHINGTON (AP)—Pennsylvania Republican leaders today looked forward to next fall's election campaign with what they described as a "universal pledge of cooperation and unity."

The GOP enthusiasm stemmed from a 4½-hour "good will dinner" given for the party's state leaders and candidates last night by the Pennsylvania Republican members of Congress.

Reps. Ivor D. Fenton and Benjamin E. James told reporters after the session that the speeches by the party's leaders and candidates reflected one of the greatest demonstrations of GOP unity they had experienced in a long time. Fenton is chairman of the state's Republican delegation in Congress and James was toastmaster at the dinner.

Farewell For Bloom

The dinner also was something of a Washington farewell for George I. Bloom, the new GOP state chairman. A Washington, Pa., lawyer, Bloom has been administrative assistant to Sen. Edward Martin, veteran Pennsylvania Republican, for nearly 10 years. Bloom said that after today he will be spending virtually all of his time in Pennsylvania preparing for and directing the state's Republican campaign.

Attending the dinner were state and national Republican leaders; Martin and Sen. James H. Duff, who is seeking re-election; Republican House members; Republican candidates for statewide and congressional offices; Henry Lark, who was chairman of the Republican primary campaign this spring; and Miles Horst, former state chairman who soon will assume a position with the U.S. Agriculture Department.

Promise Cooperation

The speeches, as reported later, were marked by promises of cooperation and the minimizing of past differences.

Martin recalled that he had had some differences with Duff, but said that "99 times out of 100" he and Duff were in agreement.

"I will do everything in my power to elect Jim Duff," he said. Bloom paid tribute to the work of Lark and Horst in the party's behalf and said that although there had been some disagreements between him and Duff, he liked to recall "the many years of friendship" the two have enjoyed.

Duff replied that he was under "everlasting obligation" to Martin because, he was quoted as saying, it was through Martin that Duff became Pennsylvania's attorney general when Martin was governor.

He said that if that had not happened, he, Duff, would "not be in the Pennsylvania political picture today."

Duff Lauds Bloom

As for Bloom, Duff said that

MILLER BAND TO PLAY HERSHEY

HERSHEY, Pa.—The music and style which made Glenn Miller the most popular dance band leader of the pre-war era will be revived at Hershey Park Ballroom on Saturday night when the Glenn Miller Orchestra, directed by Ray McKinley, occupies the bandstand.

The entire Miller music library was turned over to McKinley by the late maestro's widow, so that every tune to be played will be done in the authentic Miller tradition.

McKinley, one of the original Miller musicians, accompanied the popular bandleader from band to band even when he differed with him he never doubted his ability and was confident he would be an able party leader.

Jay Cooke, the new Pennsylvania Republican committeeman, described the meeting as "a good sign." He was glad, he said, to see "some of the slight differences of the past" being forgotten.

Fenton, James and Rep. Richard M. Simpson of Huntingdon, chairman of the Republican Congressional Committee, also urged a united campaign and expressed confidence the GOP in Pennsylvania would conduct one.

It was agreed, Fenton said, that the state's congressmen would participate more in the party's deliberations and plans.

Joseph W. Martin Jr. (Mass.) Republican leader of the House, described the forthcoming national campaign as one of the most important ever waged.

before landing with the famous Glenn Miller unit. He played drums for Ben Pollack, Smith Ballew and the Dorsey Brothers in the days that Miller did the arranging for those outfits.

When Miller enlisted in the Army Air Force during the World War II, Ray formed his own band. Later, when he heeded Uncle Sam's call, he was re-united with his old friend in the popular Miller AAF dance band. When Miller was lost in action, McKinley took over the leadership.

Free concerts in the park bandshell on Sunday will be played by the Harrisburg American Legion band. Concerts will be presented from 2 until 4 and 7 until 9 p.m. In case of inclement weather, concerts will be held in the park theater.

WATCH OUT FOR HORSES!

LANCASTER, Pa. (AP)—Sanford A. Landis swerved to avoid a collision with a horse-drawn vehicle and wound up with the horse in the back of his pick-up truck. The horse reared and his front legs landed on the body of the truck. No one was injured but damage to the truck was estimated at $200.

More than 1,500 saber-tooth tiger skulls have been recovered from the La Brea tar pits at Los Angeles.

FIVE INJURED IN PLANE CRASH

CLEARFIELD, Pa. (AP)—Two of five North Carolina residents injured in the crash of a twin-engine Lockheed airplane near here were reported in satisfactory condition Wednesday.

Al Muirhead of Durham and Ben Elliott of Raleigh were admitted to the Clearfield Hospital for X-ray examination Tuesday night after the plane was demolished in a forced landing on a farm 10 miles east of Clearfield.

Treated for minor injuries were the pilot, William T. Scarboro of Raleigh; J. G. Poole Jr. of Raleigh and Larry Cutchin of Durham.

Forced Down

Scarboro said he was forced down after he vainly tried to switch tanks in his fuel supply system. He was only a few minutes from his destination at State College after a flight from Perilla, Ill. He said he had been in the air only about three hours and had estimated he had a four-hour supply of gas when he took off. The plane was to pick up Jean

Baby Party Wear Goes High Style

The Associated Press

Even the youngest set is fashion conscious these days, and no wonder, with the high styling lavished by designers these days on baby wear.

From the moment your toddler takes his first step, he needs a special outfit for each occasion, just like grownups.

For birthday parties or visits to Grandma, babies are little ladies and gentlemen. Girls are unmistakably feminine in bows, ruffles, soft pastels, pleats, lace and embroidery. Boys are smartly tailored in boxer shorts with stitched-down creases and strictly masculine jackets, in cotton cord or seersucker.

For both brother and sister, plastic-lined pants assure protection.

Speech By "Father Of Year" Is Sometimes Referred To As Another "Gettysburg Address"

Joseph N. Welch, of Boston, who gained fame in the Army-McCarthy hearings, was named 1956 Father of the Year, as noted by the National Father's Day Committee. Many who heard this acceptance speech pronounced it another "Gettysburg Address." Here it is:

"There are, I take it, two events which must take place in the life of any man who becomes the recipient of this distinguished award, and thus is permitted to contemplate with pride the honor which goes with it. An honor which belongs in the truest sense, not to the man alone, but to his family and in particular, to his wife, without whose cooperation, charming in the extreme, the status of fatherhood could not by any possibility be achieved.

"The first absolutely essential event is the birth of a child, thus creating the status of fatherhood. This event happened to Mrs. Welch and to me in our nation's capital nearly forty years ago.

"Second Event"
"The second essential event is, I suppose, some happening or circumstance attracting public attention on more than a local scale.

"It is fairly easy to identify that event or happening in my life.

"So far as I have a public reputation, though it is quite a tiny one, that reputation was created, not by me, but by electronic engineers, who with their magic made it possible for so many people to glance at my face or listen for a moment to my voice, that it was inevitable that at least few out of so many would think that some of the things I have been heard to say have in them some little residue of wisdom or validity or even importance.

"Whatever I may have said or done which brings us face to face has been said and done primarily because I am a lawyer and it is as a lawyer that I wish to speak for a moment or two only.

"Disciplined Attitude"
"Liberty, and particularly liberty which stems from the home, actually involves attitudes and disciplines which must start in the home and, if absent, result in fatal defects in the child, the youth, and the man.

"For liberty is actually a disciplined attitude toward life and toward others.

"Liberty does not result in a wild gallop across time and space and the lives of others, heedlessly ignoring their rights and their wishes.

"True liberty is conduct within the framework of law and rules of decency with the result that any enjoyment of the beautiful freedoms this land delivers to us results in no pain and no injury to any other human being.

"This means that any free life must be lived within, and be governed by a code of honesty, of fair dealing, and of respect for all other human beings, including those whose opinions differ utterly and completely from our own, and whose views, political, religious or otherwise, may in no sense whatever match your views or mine.

"If a single word has to be resorted to to describe the good man—the good citizen—and the good father—it is the word INTEGRITY.

"If it were in my power to be-slow on the youth of the land one single quality, I would not choose, I think, wit or wisdom, or even that great boon, education. If I could choose but one—I would choose integrity.

"If one day my children and grandchildren say to each other, 'He taught us to value integrity, I shall be content.

"How is the quality of integrity passed on to the children in the home? It is passed on by living a life of integrity, of sober honesty of responsible citizenship.

"How can one surely fail to pass this priceless quality on to children in the home?

"By being a little lawless; by being a fixer; by being a cheat and a chiseler.

Will Find Freedom

"Mrs. Welch and I have two children with a facility in the use of words. Not so long ago one of them spoke these sobering words to me. He said, 'When the two of us were young, there were times when you and Mom would obviously set out to tell us how to live a good life. We could always recognize those moments and we would close our ears and our minds. Your most influential moments were your most inadvertent ones. We were apt to imitate what you really were—not what you said you were, or even what you may have believed you were.'

"I leave that sobering thought with you. If your children are to have INTEGRITY, they must first find it in the home and in you. If they live in an atmosphere of complete integrity they will accept it as an attitude and never waver thereafter. And having integrity, they will themselves find freedom, and having found it, gladly grant it to all others."

$94,000 P. O. PROJECT

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Public Works Committee has given its approval to a $94,000 post office lease-purchase project in Lansford, Pa.

The project still needs an okay from the House Public Works committee before work can begin.

Lease-purchase projects—after approval by the Budget Bureau and the Senate and House Public Works Committees—are built by private capital. The buildings are then purchased by the federal government on a long-term basis through annual rental payments.

2 UNIONS FACE STERN MEASURE BY MERGED UNIT

By NORMAN WALKER
WASHINGTON (AP)—Two key union groups faced a possible crack-down from AFL-CIO leaders today on charges of flouting rules of the merged labor federation.

One alleged rules violator is the Teamsters Union, biggest single AFL-CIO affiliate with about 1 1/2 million members.

The complaint against the teamsters involves that union's continued alliance with the International Longshoremen's Assn., ousted from the former AFL for alleged criminal influences. Under AFL-CIO rules, member unions are barred from dealings with expelled unions.

At the urging of AFL-CIO President George Meany, the teamsters several months ago dropped plans to extend the ILA a $400,000 loan, but teamsters union chief Dave Beck says his union and the ILA will continue to remain friendly and work out common problems.

Must Sever ILA Ties
The council was expected to tell Beck the teamsters must cut off completely even their remaining ties with the ousted ILA.

The building trades member unions have decided as a group to try to block any further mergers of AFL and CI organizations on state and local levels until their renewed jurisdictional war with former CI unions can be settled.

Meany went before the building trades executive board last week with a plea that their unions reverse this policy and support state mergers. They decided to maintain the policy anyway.

The teamsters also are advocating a "go slow" policy on further mergers.

The AFL-CIO Council yesterday ordered a special 1-cent monthly assessment on the 15 million AFL-CIO members to meet a revenue deficit. Meany said it was due to the big staff formed when AFL and CI combined.

MISSING CHUNK IN KHRUSHCHEV SPEECH SOUGHT

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. officials believe a big chunk is missing from the version of Nikita Khrushchev's attack on Joseph Stalin which the State Department released this week.

American diplomats and agents abroad have been ordered to hunt for any missing portion — which may run between 10,000 and 15,000 words — and get it to Washington at once if they find it. The search has been assigned the highest priority.

What is missing, authorities here feel, is a long section believed to have dealt with a denunciation of Stalin's conduct of foreign affairs.

It could be especially significant for the free nations to know what Communist party boss Khrushchev said about these matters because it would indicate Khrushchev's own thinking.

Planned For Home Use
President Eisenhower told his news conference yesterday he thinks the Khrushchev speech was designed primarily for Soviet domestic purposes. If this appraisal is correct, whatever Khrushchev said on foreign policy would be written not for foreign but for Soviet ears. The speech was delivered in late February to a secret meeting of the Soviet Communist Party Congress.

Subjects not covered in the text given out Monday by the State Department include Stalin's handling of Russia's relations with Red China, the Korean War, Soviet pressures against Iran and Turkey, Western formation of the Atlantic Alliance, postwar treatment of Germany, the Marshall Plan for European recovery and the anti-NATO Warsaw Pact.

All these are matters which might logically be expected to appear in such a speech.

The State Department said its version of Khrushchev's denunciation of the dead dictator had been prepared for the guidance of Communist party leaders in some country outside Russia.

TWO ROBBED OF $211,000 GEMS

NEW YORK (AP)—Three identically dressed gunmen snatched two gem brokerage firm employees off a Greenwich Village street yesterday and fled with $211,000 worth of cut and uncut diamonds. Albert C. Schmitt, 32, and Eugene Epsky, 27, said each gunman wore dark goggles, white gloves, peaked hats and denim work clothes similar to those of subway motormen.

The bandits warned Schmitt, secretary of the Traders Service Corp., not to reach for "your right pocket. We know you have a gun there."

Schmitt and Epsky were hustled into an apartment house cellar, and bound with adhesive tape and their own belts. Adhesive also was used to tape their youths.

After the gunmen fled with two briefcases, containing five packages of cut diamonds and four of uncut ones, Schmitt managed to partially free himself. His cries brought the building superintendent, who called police.

The diamonds were to be delivered to five midtown Manhattan firms. Police said the gems were insured.

LOST RECRUIT
OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Marine Recruiter Ralph D. Coffman was delighted to get a letter asking about his branch of the armed forces. The prospect sounded so promising he drove the 85 miles to Holdenville to talk to Clifton House about signing up.

Coffman had to turn House down, however. He was just 9 years old.

FROZEN ASSETS
SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Who would think of looking in the freezing compartment of a refrigerator for money.

A burglar did, police said, and found $3,500. It had been left in a food market freezer over the weekend, supposedly for safekeeping.

RESTORATION OF FOREIGN HELP SEEMS BRIGHTER

WASHINGTON (AP)—Leaders waged a touch-and-go battle today to persuade reluctant House members to shore up President Eisenhower's heavily cut foreign aid program.

In advance of showdown voting, Speaker Rayburn of Texas and Republican Leader Joseph W. Martin Jr. of Massachusetts were outwardly optimistic about their joint move to restore more than half the foreign aid slash voted by the House Foreign Affairs Committee.

But supporters of Committee Chairman Richards (D-SC) — and there were many among rank-and-file members of both parties — seemed equally confident he could make the $1,100,000,000 committee cut in Eisenhower's $4,900,000,000 program stick.

Stopgap Against Reds
Eisenhower declared yesterday it would be tragic if Congress doesn't support his program designed to bolster free nations against communism.

House leaders faced a growing demand for a cutoff in U.S. aid to Yugoslavia and other "neutralist" countries.

Rayburn and Richards both joined administration forces in opposing this move.

Eisenhower agreed that "where we stand" in relation to Yugoslavia "has to be re-evaluated." The administration wants to be free to continue help to Yugoslavia if the restudy Eisenhower mentioned indicates President Tito remains neutral as between Moscow and the West.

Eisenhower had asked 30 million dollars in economic aid for Yugoslavia in the year starting next July 1, plus a secret amount of military assistance. The House committee voted to cut the 30 millions in half. Its billion-dollar cut in arms aid also presumably would affect Yugoslavia.

Seek $600 Million More
Rayburn picked Rep. Brooks Hays (D-Ark.) to spearhead the bipartisan funds restoration drive with an amendment which would put 600 million dollars of the committee cut back in the bill. Hays, a Foreign Affairs Committee member, said he understands the 600-million-dollar figure was advanced by Eisenhower himself and "this is one area in which I think we should value the President's recommendation."

Rep. Flood (D-Pa.) was practically a lone voice in calling for enactment of the full $4,900,000,000. But a number of others indicated they wanted at least part of the committee cut restored in the hope of stemming the tide of communism.

$333,000 JUDGEMENT
SCRANTON, Pa. (AP)—The government entered a $333,000 judgement against the Sunbury Housing Corp., Sunbury, yesterday for defaulting on a loan obtained from the Bryn Mawr Trust Co. through the Federal Housing Administration. The judgment was filed in U.S. District Court here by U.S. Atty. J. Julius Levy.

Kefauver And Stevenson Rest After Hard Battle

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Adlai Stevenson and Sen. Estes Kefauver rested today after their long Democratic presidential primary grind which ended Tuesday in Stevenson's smashing victory over Kefauver in California.

Stevenson, in front once more as a contender for his party's presidential nomination, planned to loaf a bit at his Illinois home. Kefauver — who has vowed to keep up his nomination fight — headed for two days of sunning at a southern California desert resort. Its location was kept a secret.

The latest available ballot count from California's presidential primary—the last this year — gave Stevenson 1,041,303 votes to 626,030 for Kefauver. This was in 21,746 of the big state's 24,160 precincts.

President Eisenhower, unopposed on the Republican ballot in California, had 1,165,535 votes in returns from 20,877 precincts.

Will Continue Fight

Kefauver said he plans to "carry on a vigorous campaign in the various convention states," but many political observers regarded his nomination chances as slight in the wake of five straight primary defeats by Stevenson — in Alaska, the District of Columbia, Oregon, Florida and California.

Thirty-eight states already have chosen full or partial delegations to the Democratic National Convention at Chicago in August. Delegates already picked will cast a total of 1,108 nominating votes. Eleven states and three territories still must select delegates with 264 votes to round out the full convention complement of 1,372 votes.

266 Stevenson Votes
An Associated Press count of pledged delegate votes and indicated first-ballot preferences shows that Stevenson has 266

100 more than Kefauver, while 305 are distributed among several other Democratic figures and 370 are listed as uncommitted.

Thus, even if Stevenson could manage to collar the 264 delegate votes still to be selected, he still would be far short of the 686 2/3 votes needed to win the nomination.

Strategists in the Stevenson camp said they were on the alert for a possible Kefauver move to join forces with backers of New York Gov. Averell Harriman. According to the AP tabulation, Harriman has 93 delegates pledged or favorable to him, including 80 in his home state.

Supporters of Kefauver and Harriman said any deal between them is unlikely. So far, Harriman has described himself as "not an active candidate" for the presidential nomination. But Stevenson has called the New York governor his strongest rival.

Forty states so far have named delegates with 1,121 Republican National Convention votes, out of a total of 1,323. The AP tabulation credits Eisenhower with 960 delegates—far more than the 662 needed for his renomination.

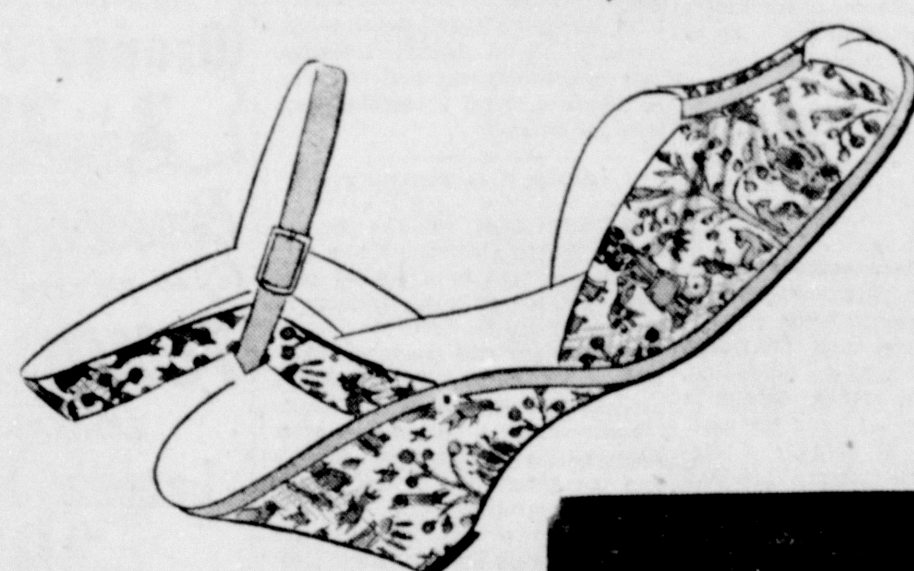

In Washington, Senators Monroney of Oklahoma and Humphrey of Minnesota—both Stevenson supporters—spoke of a growing Republican split over foreign policy. They said this would enable Stevenson to beat Eisenhower in November.

URGES CLOSER TIES BETWEEN LABOR, INDUSTRY

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP) — Spokesmen for the AFL-CIO and industry should arrange a series of informal meetings to improve communications between labor and management, an executive of Westinghouse Electric Corp. proposed Wednesday.

Mark W. Cresap Jr., executive vice president of the electrical manufacturing firm which recently was mostly shut down by a six-month-long strike, coupled his suggestion with this warning: "The real test of the present relative harmony will come during an inevitable future downward swing of the business cycle."

"The current status of labor-management relations, he said, 'has been made possible in large part by a 10-year period of almost uninterrupted prosperity and increasing production.'"

Cresap made his remarks in a speech prepared for delivery before 3,500 electric utility leaders at the annual convention of the Edison Electric Institute.

Limit Objectives
Cresap said the gatherings he proposes between top figures of labor and industry "should be

Hazleton Airport Is Not "Pay Stop"

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Hazleton, Pa., airport is just too close to the Scranton-Wilkes-Barre Airport — and for that reason Allegheny Airlines says it's not interested in making passenger stops at Hazleton.

"I hope you recognize the terrible position we're in by coming in here and telling us we don't want you," said Allegheny President Leslie O. Barnes at a Civil Aeronautics Board hearing Tuesday.

"We can't in good conscience seek a stop that won't pay," Barnes said.

The hearing was on a petition by the city of Hazleton to have Allegheny serve Hazleton's new airport.

Barnes said there just aren't enough air passengers in the Scranton, Wilkes-Barre and Hazleton area to warrant airline service at two airports.

This contention was vigorously denied by counsel for Hazleton, City Solicitor John H. Bigelow, and for the city's airport, Louis G. Feldman. Their arguments were supported by Rep. Flood, Wilkes-Barre Democrat, whose congressional district includes Hazleton.

Egyptian Premier Will Visit Tito

CAIRO, Egypt (AP) — The morning newspaper Al Shaab reported Wednesday Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser will go to Belgrade in mid-June for talks with Yugoslav President Tito that will "have a resounding echo in the international sphere."

Pointing out that the meeting will take place shortly after Tito ends his current visit to Moscow, the newspaper said it "will be preceded by an announcement of important news which cannot be divulged now."

The Nasser-Tito meeting, Al Shaab said, will "contribute largely to the strengthening of the neutral bloc."

Tito made a state visit to Egypt last winter.

geared to limited objectives, without any grandiose ideas about settling burning issues."

The Westinghouse official opposed any government participation because, he said, "tucking it under the benevolent wing of the U. S. government would kill the program before it got started."

He explained that "an organization, or organizations, representative of all types and sizes of companies, could represent industry. The new consolidated AFL-CIO would be the logical agency to represent labor."

URGES RE-STUDY OF FOREIGN AID TO YUGOSLAVIA

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said Wednesday it would be tragic if Congress doesn't support his foreign aid program. But he said he believes there should be a restudy of aid for Yugoslavia.

Eisenhower opened his news conference with a lengthy discussion of the foreign aid question, linking it to the fact that this is the 12th anniversary of D-Day, the beginning of the Normandy invasion in World War II.

With emphasis, Eisenhower said that now, as long as we aren't shooting, we aren't spending a tenth as much money as if we were.

We must continue to wage the peace, he said. We must support such programs as the Mutual Security Act and we must have a continuing study of the program to keep it on the right track.

Some Oppose Aid

Eisenhower spoke against the background of a $1,109,000,000 cut by the House Foreign Affairs Committee in the administration's $4,900,000,000 foreign aid bill.

Some legislators, moreover, have been talking of stopping aid to Yugoslavia in view of the apparent reconciliation between Yugoslavia's Marshal Tito and the Russians.

Tito is visiting in Russia. As to that development, Eisenhower told a questioner he doesn't consider what he called the Tito incident entirely a loss.

Eisenhower asked why Tito had been received in Moscow with elaborate acclaim and then answered his own question:

It was because of the success Tito had in defying the Soviet regime. To get him back the Rus-

Asserts He Found Oldest Trace Of Man

HAMBURG, Germany (AP) — A German archeologist claimed Wednesday that he has discovered the oldest traces of man.

Dr. Alfred Rust said he has uncovered 50 hand-made, sandstone tools which he estimated are a million years old.

He said that there has been no previous evidence that man lived much more than 500,000 years ago.

Dr. Rust, who is connected with the Schleswig-Holstein State Museum at Schleswig, told reporters the tools were unearthed in a gravel pit near Meiningen, in Communist East Germany.

Dr. Rust said that the discovery indicates that man inhabited northern Europe between two and five million years ago.

Big Red Tells How Stalin Had Police Beat Many Reds Into "False" Confessions

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Russians have settled a question which has puzzled Westerners ever since the mid-1930s when Stalin purged thousands of his Communist party comrades.

An astonishing parade of Old Bolsheviks confessed in open court crimes against the state, knowing it meant they were not only signing their own death sentences but giving the whole thing an air of justice.

What made it amazing was that these old-time revolutionists were picturing themselves as betrayers of the Revolution to which they had devoted their lives. Had they really done it? Were they guilty at all?

Had they perhaps been induced through some strange Communist reasoning, into confessing what they had never done even though it doomed them? Had they been hypnotized or drugged? Or what had happened?

False Party Theory
Westerners wondered and had no way of knowing. Novelist Arthur Koestler wrote a book, "Darkness at Noon," which gave an explanation that sounded plausible to many people for whom the Communist mentality was strange anyway.

The Old Bolshevik in his story, subjected to endless questioning and suggestion by his inquisitors in the dungeons of Moscow, confessed even though he was innocent. Knowing his own life was ended, he thought it best to confess since the party wanted it and he wanted to do what was good for the party.

This kind of interpretation of what happened in the purges put the whole business on a kind of intellectual plane. It was unacceptable to a lot of realistic people who looked on Koestler as a romantic.

It was hard to believe these Old Bolsheviks hadn't been broken by simple police brutality. Then when the Korean War revealed the Red Chinese brainwashing techniques it seemed possible that was what happened in the purges.

But Communist party boss Khrushchev—in a speech to the party Congress last February—told what did happen to "many thousands of Communists" when Stalin had them arrested in the 1930s.

In that speech—a version of which was obtained by the U.S. State Department and made public this week—Khrushchev said they were beaten and tortured in the "most cruel and barbaric and inhuman way" into confessing.

He said "innocent" Communists broke under the police treatment and charged themselves at the order of their torturers, with "all kinds of grave and unlikely crimes."

Khrushchev gave an example: 36 of the 139 Communists elected to the Central Committee—the party's controlling body—were arrested and shot.

Worse still, Khrushchev said that in beating a confession out of one man, they forced him false-

U.S. HAS WEAPON OF DEFENSE FOR SOVIET MISSILE

WASHINGTON (AP) — Air Gen. Earle C. Partridge says American scientists have worked out, in principle, a weapon to defend this country against a still-unperfected Soviet inter-continental ballistic missile.

But, he added, this counter-weapon "has not yet been translated into any hardware and until we can figure out a way to make the thing work operationally, I do not rest very easy."

Partridge is chief of both the Continental Defense Command and the Air Defense Command. He discussed the potential Russian air threat to the United States during secret testimony April 30 and May 1 before a Senate Armed Services subcommittee studying relative U. S.-Soviet air strength.

Testimony Is Censored
The general's testimony was made public by the subcommittee

ly to accuse others. Then the police grabbed those others, beat confessions out of them, forced them to implicate still others. It was an endless bloody chain.

Khrushchev said Stalin gave instructions on how the arrested men should be treated. The instructions he gave, Khrushchev said, usually were: Beat, beat, and, once again, beat.

Khrushchev blew all the Western romantics' high-sound waves about the Moscow purges out the window. Stalin's police didn't waste any time on intellectuality when clubs were more persuasive.

Tuesday night, but in a heavily censored form.

Partridge said both American and Russian scientists are striving to develop an accurate missile capable of speeding a hydrogen warhead thousands of miles in a matter of minutes.

He did not give a published estimate of which side is ahead, but he pictured the threat of a Soviet ICBM attack as "so frightening to me that we just cannot afford to put less effort in to the defense than we can into the offense."

Although he said at a later public hearing that the most advanced Soviet bombers could fly higher and faster than American interceptors, his closed-door testimony showed he feels confident his defense units could "take care of the Soviet threat up through the manned bomber."

Ready For Attack
Partridge said with swift new jet fighters, more powerful radar detection devices and a far-ranging communications network, he expects his defense command to be able to handle the growing Soviet air power menace for the next several years.

He said intelligence estimates indicate a Soviet attack, if it should come, would be on a large scale, and would be aimed at knocking out industrial and atomic installations, population centers and Strategic Air Command bases.

Stassen Speaks On Eisenhower Doctrine

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Harold E. Stassen spoke Wednesday of development of an Eisenhower doctrine for peace "in this H-bomb age" and envisioned peaceful reduction of the Soviet Iron Curtain "to a rusty screen."

Stassen, special assistant to President Eisenhower on disarmament problems sounded optimistic about chances for improvement of East-West relations in prepared excerpts of a speech for Rotary International's 47th national convention.

He said the visit this month to Russia by Gen. Nathan F. Twining, Air Force chief of staff, "may fit in to the growing trend" toward better relations.

"It should neither be exaggerated nor underestimated but it is inherently an act of mutual openness which could not have occurred as recently as one year ago before the summit conference at Geneva," Stassen said.

Partridge said he doubts that even the most airtight defenses "could prevent all bombers from getting through." And he reminded the senators that a single airplane carrying a hydrogen weapon "can readily destroy one city."

Report Cardinal Is Jailed Again

ROME (AP)—The official organ of Italian Catholic Action reported Wednesday that Josef Cardinal Mindszenty, Roman Catholic primate of Hungary, again has been jailed by Hungarian Communist authorities.

The newspaper, Il Quotidiano, said its information came from a reliable source.

The publication said Cardinal Mindszenty was taken to Felsőpeteny, a hamlet near Noglad, in northern Hungary, and "now is again in jail." It expressed belief he was taken there because he had refused to sign a statement "recognizing progress made in recent years between the Hungarian state and the Roman Catholic Church."

URGES PAYMENT OF $100 BONUS FOR TEACHERS

HARRISBURG (AP) — A Democratic Senate leader said he plans to advise the State Justice Department against ruling out as unconstitutional an immediate $100 bonus to Pennsylvania's 600,000 school teachers.

"I am confident that sufficient latitude is contained in the constitutional requirement concerning this phase of educational payments for the attorney general to rule in favor of the legislative intent," Sen. Democratic leader Dent said Tuesday.

Opposes Leader
Dent's stand is in disagreement with that of Gov. Leader, who on signing the school teachers' pay raise bill last week said he had been advised by the State Justice Department that the bonus was not constitutional because it is paid for past services.

The governor conditioned his approval of a total $400 increase payment in the next three school years on non-payment of the immediate bonus.

Dent said he was "still hopeful" Atty. Gen. Herbert B. Cohen will find it possible to allow payment of the bonus.

Dent's statement continued: "This is not the first time that such legislation has been passed by the General Assembly granting an increase in income during the school year."

Can Meet Payment
"Sufficient monies have been appropriated by the General Assembly to meet his bonus payment."

He said it was the unanimous decision of the Legislature "that the school teachers deserved this payment during this teaching year."

He said he will speak to Cohen about the matter on behalf of "the Democratic senators who have contacted me, who feel that the bonus is a legitimate mandate in this respect."

Man's Body Found Between Two Rails

HUNTINGDON, Pa. (AP) — A Pennsylvania Railroad trackman early Wednesday found the body of a man lying between two rails at Warrior's Ridge, about four miles west of Huntingdon.

The victim was identified as Willard B. Beck, 53, of South Portland, Maine.
Railroad officials said Beck had been aboard the Penn-Texas passenger express and was found to be missing when the train pulled into Harrisburg Tuesday night. A window in his bedroom had been smashed, and the door was locked from the inside.

The Army said Tuesday if the bird is ever found it will fly — in an airplane — to Ft. Monmouth, N. J., for a refresher course.

PROBE REPORT OF CREMATION

NEW YORK (AP) — The Dominican line freighter Fundacion returned to New York Wednesday and detectives swarmed aboard to probe charges that a foe of the Dominican Trujillo regime had been tossed alive into the ship's flaming boilers. The Trujillo foe, Dr. Jesus de Galindez, an instructor at Columbia University, disappeared on March 12.

Recently Nicholas Silva, spokesman for the anti-Trujillo Dominican Revolutionary party, went to authorities with a story that he had heard that Galindez was kidnapped and tossed into the ship's firebox when the vessel was here last.

Dominican authorities quickly tabbed the story a "lie" and a "hoax," and offered to make both the ship and its crew available to

CLOSE VOTE ON NEW PROPOSAL ON SS BENEFITS

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Smathers (D-Fla.) said Wednesday he believes the Senate will vote to allow eligible women to draw Social Security retirement benefits at age 62.

Smathers said in an interview he thinks the vote on a proposal to set up a new Social Security disability program will be "real close."

A Social Security bill passed by the House a year ago would have established a program of benefits for persons permanently and totally disabled at age 50 or above. It also would have allowed women to draw Social Security benefits at age 62. The present minimum is 65 for men and women.

The Senate Finance Committee, following the urging of the Eisenhower administration, has approved the bill. The committee voted to permit benefits at 62 only for widows—not single working women or wives of retired men. Smathers, who serves on the committee, opposed these moves.

A number of Democrats have said they will seek to restore the House provisions.

Senate debate on the bill, one of the few remaining major measures due for consideration this year, is scheduled to start today. But no

2-Year Pact Signed By Western Union

WASHINGTON (AP)—Agreement on a two-year contract has ended the threat of a nationwide walk-out of Western Union Telegraph Co. workers.

The company announced the agreement provides a 13-cent hourly pay boost for its 45,000 workers retroactive to June 1, along with improved pensions and messenger allowances. Effective next Jan. 1, another 5 cents an hour is to be provided to adjust individual wage scales.

The workers had averaged $1.88 an hour. The unions had sought a 15-cent hourly pay boost and another 7 cents for adjustments. The agreement was reached with the Commercial Telegraphers Union and the independent American Communications Association.

Many senators have reported receiving heavy mail complaining that the Finance Committee bill unfairly favors widows.

Sen. Byrd (D-Va.), chairman of the committee, told a reporter such mail has come to his office in substantial volume. He said he has replied by stressing the cost of a reduction in the minimum age for all women.

NEW CONTROLS FASHIONED FOR USE IN HOMES

By SAM DAWSON

PITTSBURGH (AP)—It may be hard to control the housewife but she can certainly put the controls on her house these days.

And the highly specialized automatic controls industry has cooking in its research laboratories still great marvels of automation for the home—including one that will let her know when her husband comes home in the early hours.

Hidden inside today's home appliances are a variety of tiny automatic control devices to measure time, start and stop gadgets, maintain heat or switch to cold. Just catching on is a thermal eye which makes it really hard for a cook to burn food.

About 300 million dollars worth of these devices each year go into the nation's ranges, refrigerators, water heaters, washing machines, dryers, air conditioners and other home appliances.

They are akin to the intricate devices that are automatically controlling the nation's industrial processes and are a respectable share of the industry's four billion dollar year business.

New Washing Methods
Research and development facilities are being added by most manufacturers. And from these laboratories come predictions that it won't be too long before appliances use ultrasonic waves to wash clothes and dishes "instantaneously and without agitation" and then high frequency will dry them "just as quickly."

Robertshaw-Pulton's research center at nearby Irwin, Pa., which is spending about 2½ million dollars this year, has brought out the "thermal eye" which 40 manufacturers of gas and electric ranges are putting on the burners on the top of their new models. A dial set at the correct cooking temperature for a particular food keeps the heat constant for an indefinite period, working somewhat like oven temperature controls do.

They even talk of electronically equipped driveways. When a homing car turns in, concealed lights go on along the walks and beside the doorway, and garage doors automatically open.

How does a man sneak in at 3 a.m. that way?

Daughters Of The American Colonists Memorialize Penn In Manor Of The Mask Chapter

"To make research as to history and deeds of the American colonists, and to record and publish the same; to commemorate deeds of colonial interest; to inculcate and foster love of America and its institutions by all its residents; to obey its laws and venerate its flag, the emblem of its power and civic righteousness" create the bond of unity and establish the pattern of work for the Daughters of the American Colonists, locally and nationally.

The Adams County Chapter of the Daughters of the American Colonists, called the Manor of Maske Chapter, commemorates in its very title, a deep historical significance attached to this area of the state. When William Penn marked off his 100 parcels of land comprising Pennsylvania, one of these tracts, chosen because it was so well-watered and well-wooded, Penn called the Manor of Maske. Several members of the Manor of Maske Chapter of the Daughters of the American Colonists treasure the original parchment land deed, signed by Penn's heirs.

The boundaries of the Manor of Maske include Gettysburg and all of Cumberland Twp. The lines across Freedom and Highland Twp. on the west, approach Butler Twp. on the north and cross Straban and Mt.

Joy on the east. The southern boundary lies on the Mason-Dixon line.

As with the Manor of Maske Chapter, each chapter of the organization has a name bearing some special significance. In York there are the Warrington Meeting Chapter, named after an original Quaker meeting house, and the Springett-bury Manor Chapter. In Hanover there is the Digges Choice Chapter, alluding to some historical background of the area in days gone by. Colonial tradition is a primary factor in the rules for membership in any chapter of the DAC. Persons wishing to join must claim direct genealogy from an original colonist, an original landowner. The ancestor must have given service in colonial days as an official or in the early wars of the colonies. He could also have been a signer of the oath of allegiance. (Colonists were not permitted to come ashore until they signed the oath of allegiance to the King of England. All ancestors must be traced back to a date prior to July 4, 1776.

In the autumn of 1949 Mrs. C. E. Bilheimer secured 17 persons who were able to claim colonial ancestry and were willing to organize in the interest of American history and colonial tradition. The first organ-

J. Henry Hershey received his B.A. degree in Economics and Business Administration at the 114th commencement exercises at Roanoke College at Salem, Va., on Sunday.

J. HENRY HERSEY

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald H. Hershey of Cash-town.

The commencement address was by the Rev. Dr. Franklin Clark Fry, president of the United Lutheran Church in America. The Rev. Dr. Carl A. Honeycutt of Columbia S. C., gave the baccalaureate sermon.

Mr. Hershey was a member of Sigma Chi fraternity and the track team. He was a second honors student.

ization meeting and luncheon was held February 21, 1950. Mrs. Ralph J. Miller, of Shenandoah, regent of the state society of DAC and now honorary vice president of national society, installed officers of the local chapter. Mrs. Bilheimer was installed as the first regent.

The first officers of the chapter were: Regent, Mrs. C. E. Bilheimer; first vice regent, Mrs. Victor Dutera; chaplain, Mrs. Fred Troxell; recording secretary, Mrs. George H. Thrush Jr.; corresponding secretary, Mrs. John A. Mumper; registrar, Mrs. J. Kermit Herter; treasurer, Mrs. Guile W. Lefever; historian, Miss Margaret McMillan.

During Mrs. Bilheimer's illness prior to her death in December, 1950, Mrs. Victor Dutera, who was then vice regent, became acting regent. In March, 1951, she was elected to succeed Mrs. Bilheimer until March, 1952. An election in March, 1952 gave Miss Margaret McMillan the regency until March, 1953 when Miss Elsie E. Eisenhart was installed as regent.

Since the founding of the chapter in 1950 chapter members have united in several projects to promote historic consciousness in the county and to contribute to the betterment of community life. DAC cooperated with the Adams County Historical Society in having boundary markers erected to designate the boundaries of Penn's original Manor of Maske. A complete set of ten lineage books, which list the genealogy from original ancestors, was placed in the public library on a restricted shelf. Each lineage book includes 1,000 family names and their ancestral heritage. A supplementary book has been added to the collection by the chapter. An American flag was given to the high school for its auditorium by the DAC. The flag was dedicated in September,

Current Officers

Local DAC's helped to organize a new daughter chapter, the Rocky Spring Chapter. Mrs. R. Mary Walker was the organizing regent. Contributions have been made to a number of state and national projects including gifts to the state veterans hospitals, microfilming of important historical, genealogical records and to national awards.

Thirty-nine members now comprise the Manor of Maske Chapter. The chapter honors the memory of three daughters who have died recently: Mrs. C. E. Bilheimer, founding regent, Miss MaBelle Herter and Mrs. Maude Wierman Kennedy.

Current officers of the chapter are: Regent, Miss Elsie E. Eisenhart; first vice regent, Miss Margaret McMillan; second vice regent, Miss Grace Sachs; chaplain, Mrs. Roy Tate; recording secretary, Mrs. Guile W. Lefever; corresponding secretary, Miss Alice L. Black; treasurer, Mrs. George D. Ditchburn; registrar, Mrs. J. Kermit Herter; historian, Mrs. Wilmer E. Gross; librarian, Mrs. Elizabeth S. Hennig.

Any picures in the family? Sprinkle whole small fish with onion rings, sliced fresh mushrooms, salt and pepper; dot with bits of butter and wrap tightly in aluminum foil. Bake in a hot oven. Let each eater open his own portion at the table.

LEADERS OFF ONCE MORE ON EUROPE TRIP

NEW YORK (AP)—Pennsylvania's Gov. Leader made his second plane departure for Europe Tuesday night after his original flight Monday night turned back five hours out.

The four-engine plane had to return from Newfoundland on three engines. Leader said he slept all the way on the return trip. The governor, his wife and son left on another Dutch airliner about 6:30 p.m. Tuesday night — 24 hours after their first takeoff.

Still For Adlai Before leaving, Leader told newsmen he thinks Adlai Stevenson "will make an able and active president."

From Amsterdam the Leaders will fly to Israel where the governor is to dedicate a forest of 130,000 trees, paid for by Pennsylvanians, being planted near Beer-sheba.

The governor also plans to survey mental health programs in Holland, England and Israel, seeking information for use in coping with similar problems in Pennsylvania.

DEFENDMETHODS OF AWARDING PIKE CONTRACTS

HARRISBURG (AP)—Chairman G. Franklin McSorley of the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission Wednesday defended commission procedures of awarding some contracts on a negotiated basis without public bids and payment of living expenses to commissioners.

McSorley said the State Justice Department had talked to him about the procedures. He made the statement when asked to comment on reports the Justice Department was looking into those phases of the commission's operations.

Under the negotiated contract procedure, certain contractors are invited by letter to submit bids without public advertising.

"We can negotiate any contract we want to," McSorley told an inquiring reporter. "However when it involves a lot of money generally it is awarded through public bidding."

Cites Provision

McSorley cited a provision in the turnpike law giving the commission authority to make any and all agreements relating to its work. He said he found nothing relating to negotiated or bid contracts.

"We always take bids, anyway, except in case of repairs," McSorley said.

The commission has been negotiating repaving contracts on the western end of the toll road involving some 2 million dollars.

As to the commission allowing living expenses of commissioners, McSorley said:

"It is safe saying that since the inception of the Turnpike Commission it has permitted payment of expenses to commissioners that in a great many cases included expenses at Harrisburg."

McSorley added he believes the turnpike act allows such "reimbursements for whatever expenses are deemed necessary to carrying out the job" without regard to where the expenses are incurred.

Crime costs the United States 15 billion dollars a year, according to one estimate.

COURT RULES SEGREGATION OUT ON BUSES

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—A three-judge federal court panel in a 2-1 vote Tuesday ruled racial segregation unconstitutional on Montgomery city buses.

The panel ruled that both the city and state segregation laws requiring separate seating facilities for white and Negro passengers violate the federal constitution.

Judge Richard T. Rives of the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals and Judge Frank M. Johnson Jr. of Alabama's U.S. Middle District Court signed the majority opinion.

Dissenting Opinion

Judge Seybourn Lynne of Alabama's Northern U.S. District Court, Birmingham, wrote a dissenting opinion saying that in his opinion separate but equal facilities are constitutional.

The ruling doesn't become effective, the court said, until a formal

News Briefs

ALGIERS, Algeria (AP)—French Alpine and mechanized troops sealed off a big area of the Kabylie Mountain region in northeast Algeria Wednesday and began a massive search for rebel strongholds.

In western Algeria, the army said it made contact with a rebel band and killed 12 of them.

JERUSALEM, Israel Sector (AP)—Seventy infiltrators from Syrian territory set fire to fields belonging to a settlement in upper Galilee, destroying more than 10 acres, an Israeli army spokesman said Wednesday. He added that the infiltrators threw stones at settlers trying to put out the blaze, but an attempt to abduct one of the settlers failed.

The spokesman also charged two cases of penetration by groups of Jordan soldiers into Israel territory.

Judgment is entered. Opposing attorneys were asked to submit in writing within two weeks their views on the form of a judgment and whether a stay should be granted pending an appeal.

The decision came on the six-month anniversary of Montgomery's Negro bus boycott which started last Dec. 5 in protest against segregated seating facilities on city buses. The suit in Federal Court which led to today's decision was filed by four Negro women who testified at a hearing on May 11 that they have refused to ride city buses since the mass protest began.

Tuesday's ruling can be appealed direct to the U.S. Supreme Court and may provide the first clearcut test of city bus segregation in the South.

The 4th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals at Richmond, Va., had previously ruled bus segregation unconstitutional in Columbia, S.C., but sent the case back to the trial court for a determination of damages.

The Supreme Court on April 23 dismissed an appeal from the Court of Appeals ruling, but two of the judges sitting on the panel here, commented at the hearing last month that in their opinion the Supreme Court hadn't passed on the segregation issue itself, but rather dismissed the appeal because the case was still pending in the lower courts.

Since no question of damages was involved in the suit here, an appeal would go directly to the Supreme Court to uphold or reverse the panel's findings.

HEFTY WIDOW GETS DEATH FOR SLAYING MATE

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—A hefty, auburn-haired waitress who killed her fourth husband with arsenic was sentenced Monday night to die in the electric chair.

Mrs. Rhonda Belle Martin, 49 and 170 pounds, admitted killing Claude C. Martin and five other members of her family, but she was tried only for the death of her fourth husband.

Her other victims were three daughters, her mother and another husband.

A jury of 12 men deliberated 3 hours and 10 minutes Monday night before convicting her of poisoning Martin after about a year of married life.

When the verdict was read, Mrs. Martin buried her head in her arms and sobbed.

The woman's attorney based his defense on a plea of insanity.

The prosecution countered that Mrs. Martin served arsenic in coffee to her husband in order to "collect some paltry amount of insurance and to get him out of the way so she could marry his son."

Eight months after Martin's death on April 27, 1951, Mrs. Martin married her stepson, Ronald C. Martin, 21 years her junior. He now lies in a veterans' hospital paralyzed by arsenic poisoning.

Ronald Martin's illness, for which Mrs. Martin is under indictment for attempted murder, touched off the investigation that brought to light the series of poisonings.

Under Alabama's automatic appeal law, Monday night's conviction will go to the Supreme Court. The sentence is postponed until the appeal is decided.

Solicitor William F. Thetford introduced evidence that Mrs. Martin collected $2,750 on three insurance policies soon after her husband's death.

You'll need one egg (slightly beaten) and about a third cup of fine dry bread crumbs for breading a pound of veal cutlet.

48 MILLION IN STATE AID WILL GO TO SCHOOLS

HARRISBURG (AP) — First to fourth class school districts in Pennsylvania today stand to share an additional 48 million dollars in state subsidies.

Gov. Leader ordered the payment Tuesday along with another 25 millions to state sided universities, colleges, medical schools, homes and hospitals.

Another 6 1/2 million dollar payment was ordered to the school districts for reimbursement for tuition.

The state aid to schools was due during March and April.

Ordered Monday
The governor's office said Leader ordered the payments made before he left for Israel two days ago.

State Treasurer Weldon B. Heyburn said requisitions for payment of the money, processed by the Public Instruction Department, Gospel Trumpet Publishing Co. He had been employed with the Standard Printing Company of Milton.

have not yet been forwarded to his office.

"Until they do arrive no checks can be drawn for disbursements," Heyburn warned. He estimated it would take less than five days to get the checks to the school districts once requisitions were received.

Payments Include

Payments to school districts include: Fourth class—$21,646,000; third, $16,841,000; second, $4,500,000, and first, 5 millions.

Some 6 millions will go to the state-aided general hospitals.

The governor's directive also cleared the way for payment of 12 1/2 millions in subsidies to state aided universities, colleges and medical schools.

Giant Pulp Plant Is Being Planned

HALIFAX, N. S. (AP)—The Chronicle-Herald Wednesday quoted Vice President Andrew Schroder of Scott Paper Co. as saying that if Scott builds a giant pulp plant mill in Nova Scotia, it will be at Abercrombie Point.

The newspaper said that in a long distance telephone conversation from company headquarters at Chester, Pa. Schroder said Scott was acquiring 500 acres of property in the Abercrombie area. Schroder reportedly said the company has no immediate plans for building the mill but that future plans may include such work.

SAY MERGER IS VIOLATION

WASHINGTON (P)—The Federal Trade Commission charged Monday that the acquisition of three new plants since 1951 by the Scott Paper Co., of Chester, Pa., is a violation of the Clayton Anti-Trust Act.

Because of Scott's leading position as a manufacturer of paper goods, the complaint said, any acquisition which led to a substantial production boost "would result in a substantial lessening of competition or would tend to create a monopoly."

Companies manufacturing pulp paper or finished products or both, which Scott has acquired since 1951, were listed by the FTC as: Soundview Pulp Co., Everett, Wash.; Detroit Sulphite Pulp and

WOMAN STARTED FATHER'S DAY 46 YEARS AGO

The originator of Father's Day is a mother. She is Mrs. John Bruce Dodd of Spokane, Washington.

The idea for "Father's Day" came to her one morning in 1909 as she was washing dishes while her son, John Bruce Dodd Jr., gurgled happily beside her in a highchair. It was her way of honoring her father who raised her and five motherless brothers. This was a natural expression of love, devotion and gratitude of this daughter toward her Dad, and as such it has touched the life of America.

According to Mrs. Dodd, Father's Day would be the way to fulfill the need of calling attention to Father's place in the home, training the children, safeguarding of the marriage tie, the protection of womanhood and childhood.

When the idea for Father's Day came to her, Mrs. Dodd went to her own minister with it and, through him, to the Spokane Ministerial Association. Mrs. Dodd embodied her thoughts in a letter to the Spokane Ministers Alliance which received it favorably. She told of the love and sacrifices of her own father, William Smart, a Civil War veteran, who reared his six motherless children in an eastern Washington farm. William Jennings Bryan was one of the first to give formal endorsement to Mrs. Dodd's idea when he said, "Too much emphasis cannot be placed upon the relation between parent and child," and complimented Mrs. Dodd on her inspiration. The Spokane Young Men's Christian Association put the Father's Day idea into active motion and Spokane, in 1910, was the first city to set aside a day to honor Father.

Gains National Prominence
From a humble beginning, the day of remembrance grew to national importance with President Woodrow Wilson having a Father's Day button pressed in the White House in 1916, and with President Calvin Coolidge recommending national observance of Father's Day in 1924.

Mrs. Dodd wanted Father's Day to be held on June 5, her Father's birthday, but there wasn't time for the ministers to prepare sermons for the first Father's Day, and so the third Sunday in June was chosen. Since 1910 Father's Day has been celebrated on the third Sunday in June. This year marks the 46th anniversary of the first Father's Day.

William Smart, her father, the man who inspired Father's Day, died in 1919, but he lived long enough to see Father's Day become a growing reality throughout the nation. Mrs. Dodd, who is now retired, was an active business woman in Spokane, Washington, where she still lives. Her husband, a life insurance company employee, died eleven years ago, and her only child, John Bruce Dodd Jr., is associated with the National Park Service in Washington.

It was also Mrs. Dodd who selected the rose as the official Father's Day flower—a white rose for remembrance and a red rose for living tribute.

HARRISBURG (P)—The State Agriculture Department said Wednesday Pennsylvania farmers lost 1 per cent in index prices received for their principal products during the 30 days ended last May 15.

Further declines in prices to farmers for milk and eggs again were responsible for the drop, a federal-state survey revealed.

The Pennsylvania index now stands at 226 per cent of its 1910-14 average, six points below May a year ago, the department said.

WASHINGTON (P)—A House subcommittee Wednesday resumed its hearing on the prospects of a comprehensive coal research program, with Rep. Jennings (D—Va.) and Frank W. Earnest Jr. of the Anthracite Institute as the scheduled witnesses.

The group—a special house interior subcommittee—may hear also from Rep. Flood (D—Pa.), who represents an anthracite area.

Paper Co., Detroit, and Hollingsworth and Whitney Co., Boston.

"Unfair Methods"
"The constant and continuous acquisition of companies" and their conversion to Scott production, the complaint states, are "unfair methods of competition." The FTC charges that these acquisitions, both "individually and collectively" are violations of the act.

The FTC said Scott sales have increased from 97 million dollars in 1950 to 245 millions in 1955, and assets have risen from 50 to 225 million in the same period.

The company has 30 days to file an answer. A hearing was set for Aug. 15 at Chester, before an FTC examiner.

HARDING TARGET FOR THREATS AS HE MEETS EDEN

By TOM OCHILTREE

LONDON (P)—A car speeding through the streets of Manchester scattered leaflets Tuesday threatening death to Sir John Harding, governor of strife-torn Cyprus.

The leaflets, signed by a Cypriot extremist organization and addressed to Harding, said: "You are a criminal and you've got to pay for your crimes. A bullet is waiting for you."

Seek Vengeance

Police have been told that a group of Greek-speaking Cypriots have slipped into Britain with plans to make an attempt of Harding's life. They seek to avenge compatriots convicted as terrorists and hanged by the British in the Mediterranean island colony.

Harding, closely guarded by armed detectives, now is in London for conferences with government leaders on the Cyprus situation. The security net around him is so tight that his appointments and movements are not announced until after he has completed them.

Prime Minister Eden gave his Cabinet an account of his talk Tuesday night with Harding. During the day Harding had conferences with Colonial Secretary Alan Lennox-Boyd and Anthony Head, secretary of war.

Eden has declared that Britain will not be forced out of Cyprus by Greek-speaking Cypriot demands for union with Greece. But there is some concern here that no new avenues of negotiation have been found following the deporta-

Parking Ticket Replaces Note

BALTIMORE, Md. (P)—Motorists jockeying for scarce legal downtown parking space spotted a policeman apparently tagging a vacant sedan. Later they found only a note reading: "Will call you at 7:30 tonight — Dick."

Next day, they found a reply (still no ticket) on the same car in the same parking space.

"Dick — This is in case you happen by again. If you don't have a ride home Sunday or some day next week, call me. I'll pick you up and give you a buggy ride — Janet."

Three days later, the bloom was off the rose. The car was in the same space, but there was no note — only a ticket.

tion of Archbishop Makarios, Cypriot spiritual leader. Some sources said Britain might consult her NATO allies in a new effort to settle the disorders on the strategic island.

SUCCESS SIGNS IN NEW CANCER VACCINE TEST

DETROIT (P)—Some 30 cancer-stricken humans have been given vaccines made from their own cancers, a Boston physician disclosed Wednesday.

It is too early to tell whether they benefited. But there are signs they did, and good experimental reasons to think the vaccines can help.

Each vaccine was prepared from bits of each person's own cancer, and then injected under the skin of that same person. The aim was to increase natural resistance to far-advanced cancer.

It could work by forming antibodies against the cancer, and by increasing the number of healthy defensive cells that resist the spread of cancer.

X-rays to kill cancer cells are given soon afterward.

The new experimental work was described to the third National Cancer Conference by Dr. John B. Graham, a physician, and his wife Ruth, a cytologist or expert on cells. Both are from the Vincent Memorial Hospital in Boston.
